Doctor.... I forgot but have you gotten rid of the Opalcrab thing yet? If you haven't then you should probably be able to do it now, you've learned how to fly, had, Celestia knows, amount of rounds and hours of rough sex with Rainbow Dash, and saved Twilight from impending death. I could hardly imagine a cat... tentacle... crab... spider... thing... could scare you now. Here's some bravery butter just in case you still are scared of it.

Little bitch --

know you're gonna come up some witty smart ass remark but I'll say it anyways. What the fuck is wrong with you? We all know 'O' most of us do, what Derpy did to mess up. But can't you just leave her the hell alone? You may not be trying but you're still fucking with her. Of course you're not gonna care. You're an asshole. Time Lord or not, you will die soon enough and when you go to hell, I'm gonna be laughing my ass off. Okay. Go ahead say something. I'm waiting you asshole.

I know you hate the topic but I just have to ask. Are you deliberately trying to hurt derpy or is it just random situations that give you the opportunity to do so?

Oh,
you
figured
it
out!!

Good
job!!

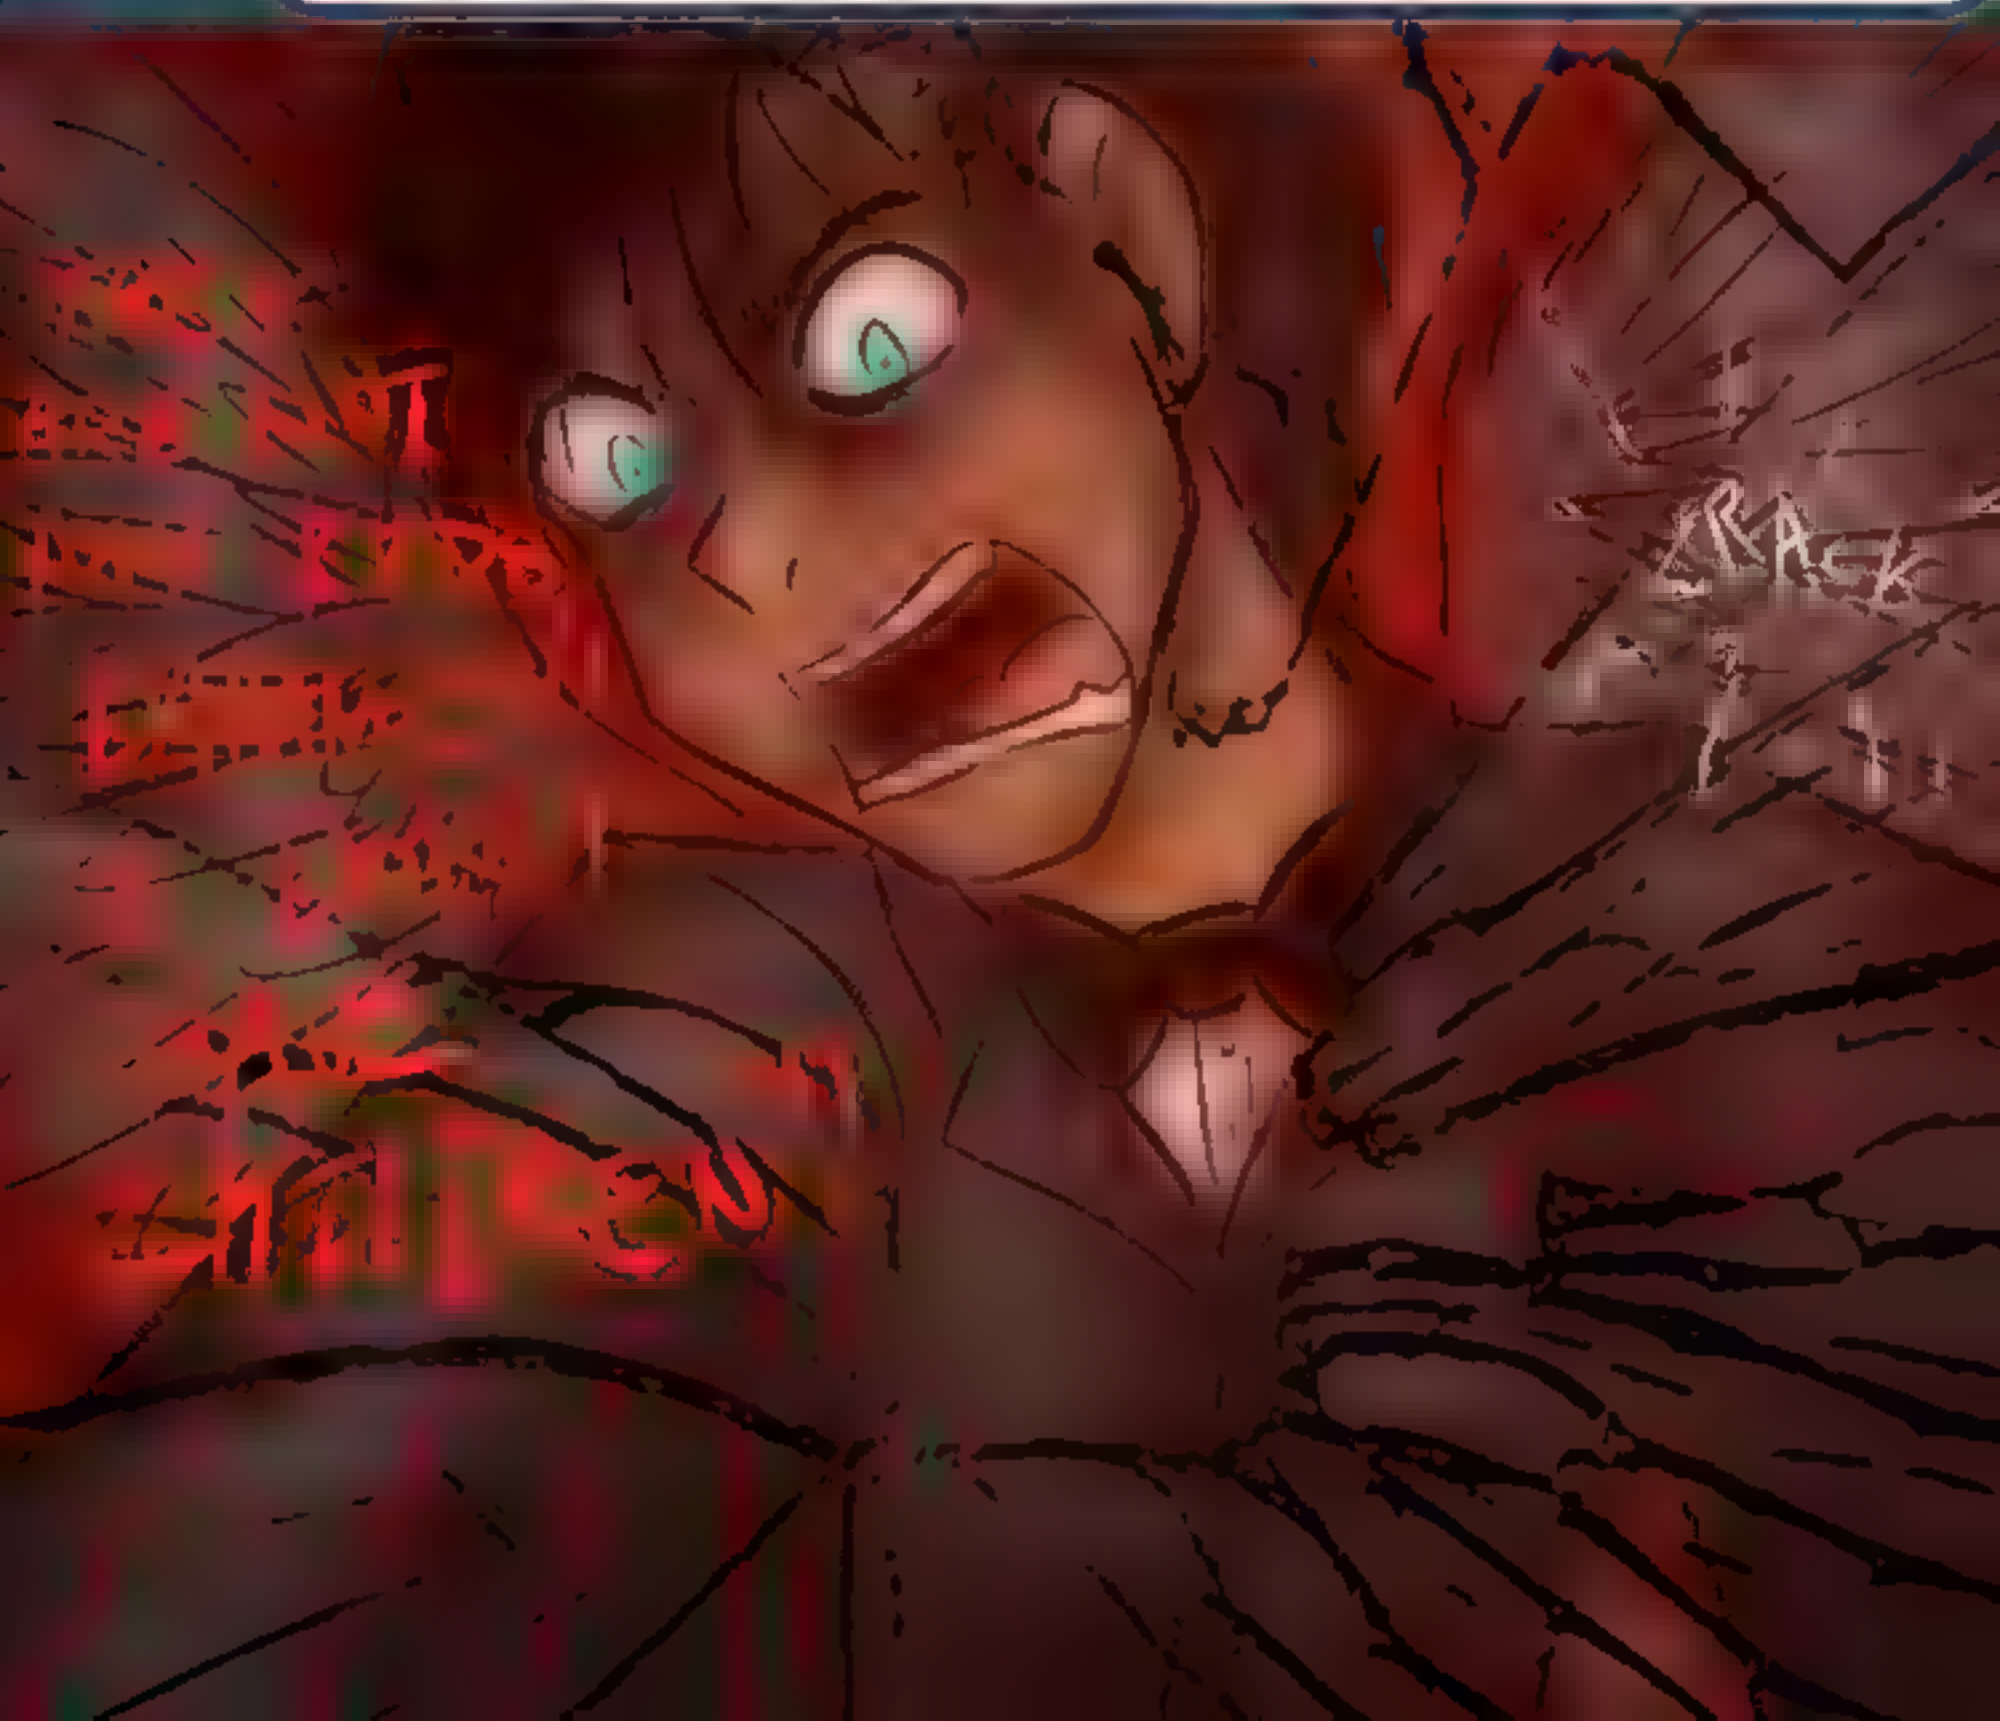

Seriously, Doc? You might not be "evil" per say, but you're damn well callous.

Sex sex sex is that all that matters too you? is that really what you think will fix this problem that you know you have? Sex is not helping the problem, but in fact, adding to it. I know you may disagree, but permit me a question. How long do you feel good about yourself after the act? Do you do yourself proud with the knowledge that your bed companion is simply there for the pleasures of the flesh? I, sir, would be repulsed by myself, and you've made it evident enough of the same to you.

Is it possible you're scared to finish while you're a pony? Or possibly just in general?

Being tied up, beaten and humiliated was al. of that worth making him angry?
Was it sat sfying, Doctor? Silent

Well, you got beat up but was it worth it? To see HIM panic for once?

So Doctor, are you going to be fine? You really took a beating back there with the Master. In all honesty, it was amazing how you stood up to him. Not many can, though. Out of curiosity, do you think he'll cause anymore problems for you?

He'll never give
up. Even if he's dead, he always finds
a way back.
Either way,

For being so worried about self preservation you're not very good at it

You don't have to be the Master like I do. There are other things he could never bring himself to destroy himself and me

I would have been fine, even without Link.

Hold on a sec, Why would Inkie ask the Master to spare you, based on how you've treated her up to this point ?

We can change this

Do you think the guards will do anything to DRD?

So do you have any plans on going back to save DRD?

Doctor do you think you should have stayed and helped Dead Rainbow Dash?

I know! I barely know her, but she wouldn't know what
she was doing but I know I
can't help
with this!

So, are you for or against what you have just heard from Dead Rainbow Dash

I don't agree with either choice

answer and it never should be

Impressive burst of courage. You managed to get rid of the Master, at least for now. Even though he hit you pretty hard. Think you can pull that off again anytime soon? He did threaten your loved ones after all, that can't be good.

He said to keep a close eye on those you care about. Who do you think he would go after first?

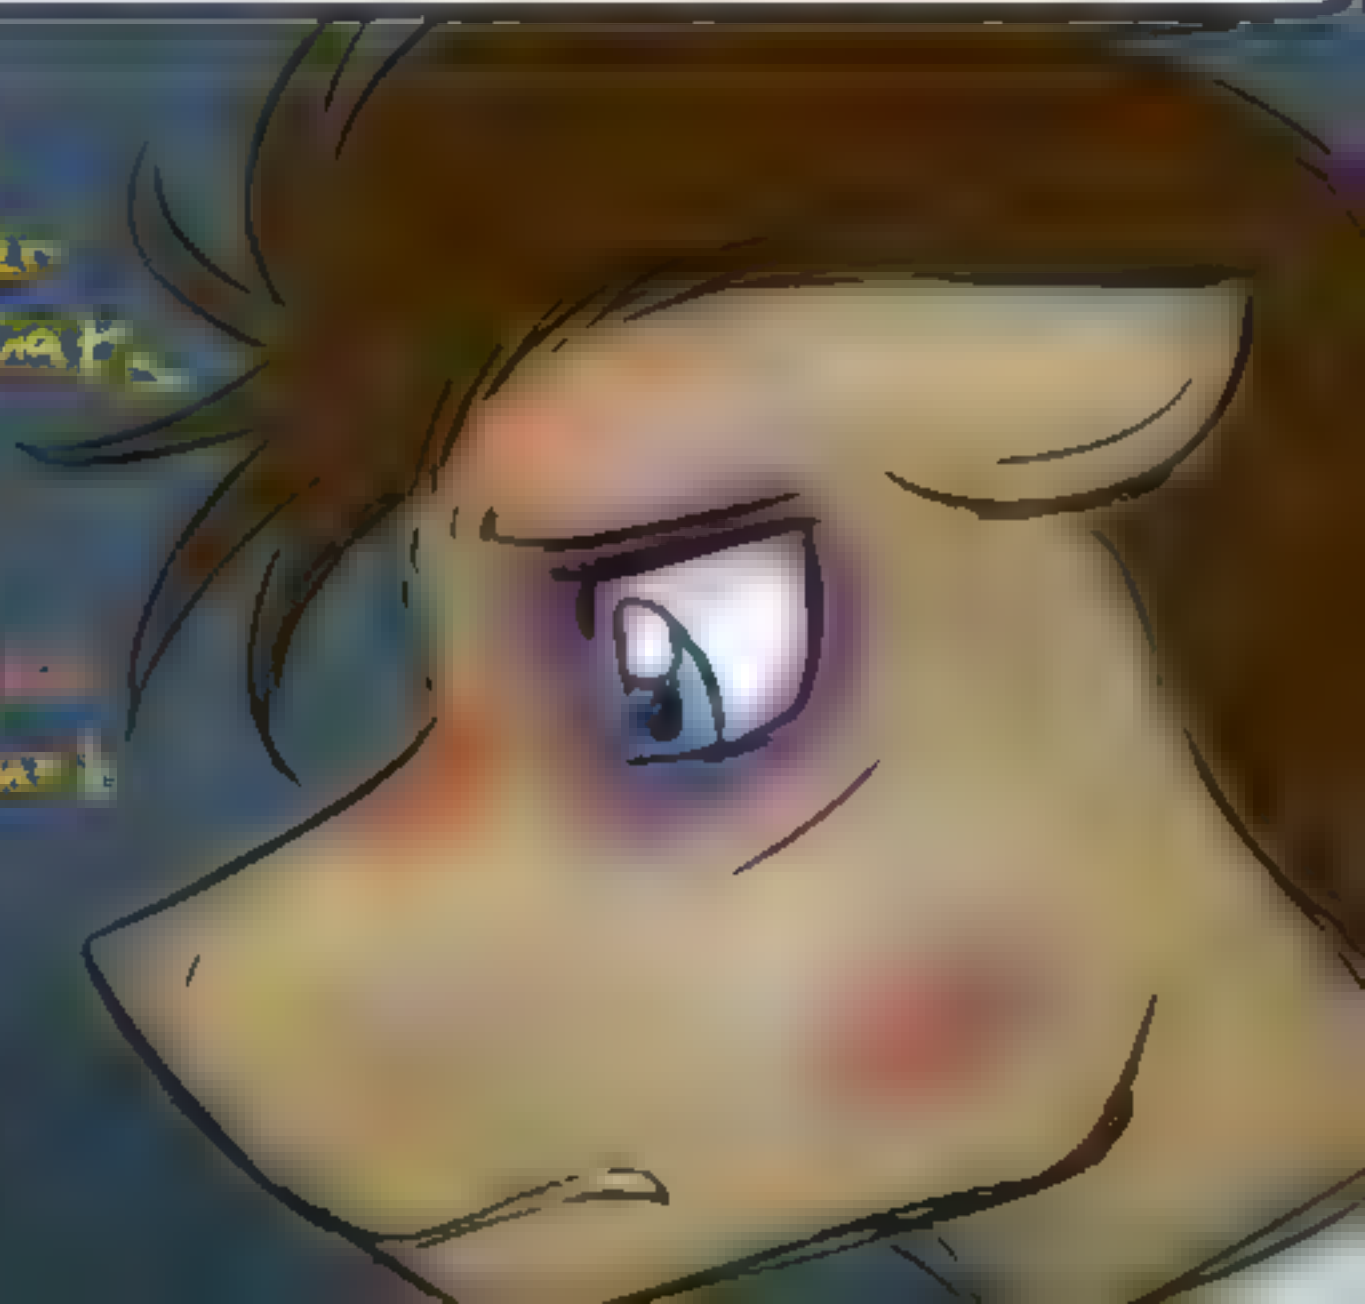

you know your no longer friends you should kill him it the only way to be free of him and protect those you ove one death vs many done by h s hands its a far trade

You have more on the Master than you let on I know you're afraid, but you have to deal with him Permenantly If not for your sake than for Twil.ght's You know she'll be next on his hit list Please Doctor

Are you going to final y sort The Master out for everything he's done, or wil you just let him continue to hurt the people you love Mr Doctor Sir?

There must be some other way But that
what is always done
People
Maybe
This
is me

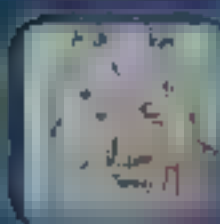

Memories of dear old Wilf, eh Doctor? Wonder what else is worming its way back into your head. The only way out is to take out the sources, hm? Well then... let's see if you can't pull the trigger this time.

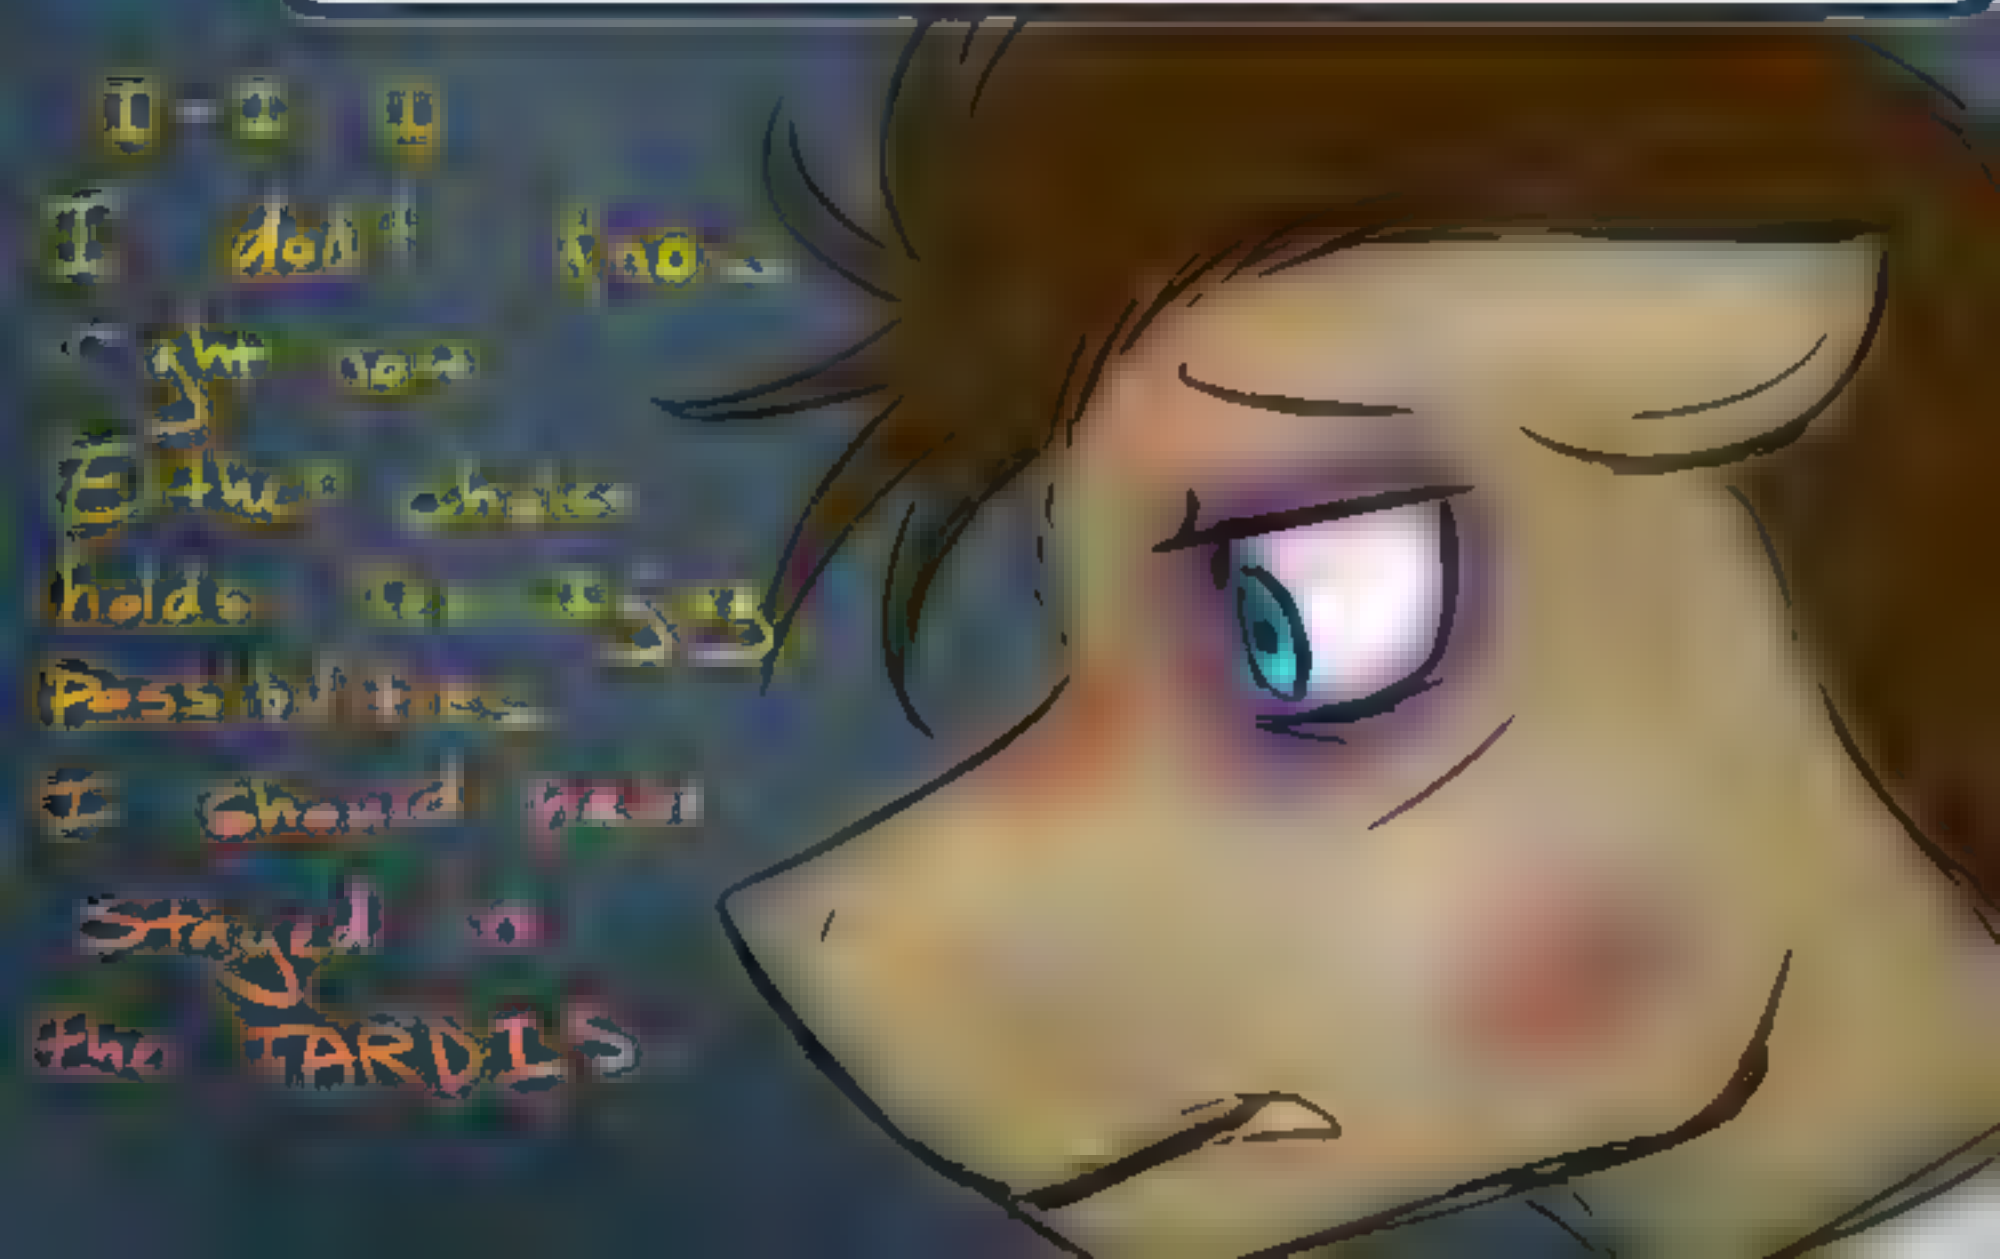

you really think you can go through with shooting the master? don't get me wrong i hate the fucker but do you have it in you?

You don't plan on actually shooting somebody with that gun, do you?

Do you actually plan on using the gun, Doctor?

Amity Smith

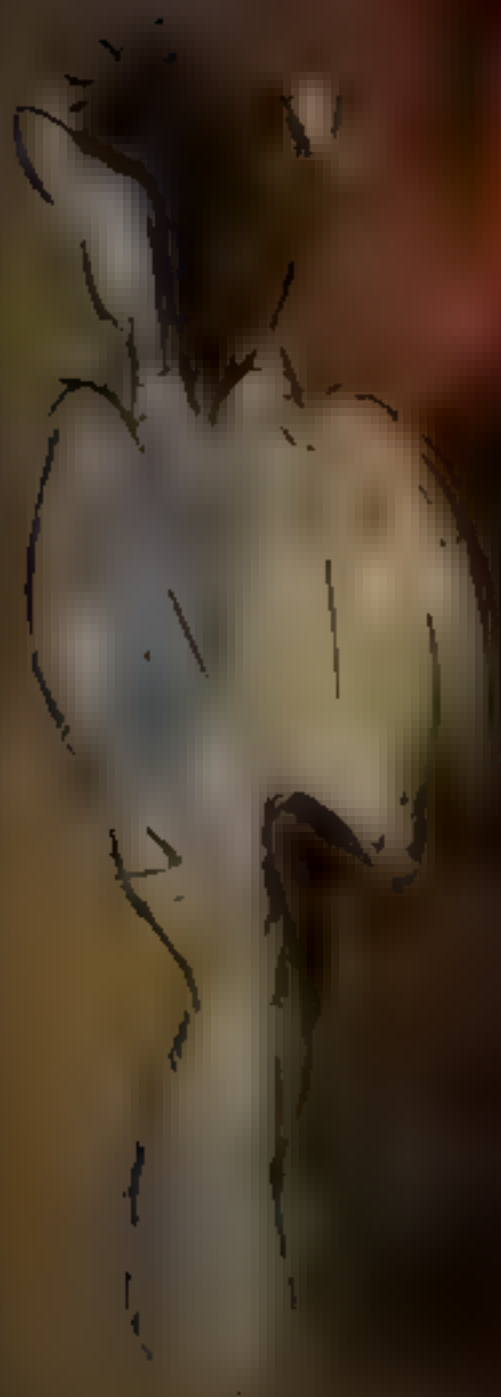

Doctor I know your troubles, I know your secrets I am not going to blame you for what you have done But think of them of what you did Of Wilfred, Rose Jack Sarah-Jane Doctor why? For one single moment, think of the old ones The people, who meant something Was it for nothing?

Amity Smith

Do you ever regret helping Wilfred?

500 Yes.

What is it about the Master that makes him so much more powerful than you, that makes him so frightening? You're both time lords, why does HE have the edge?

It's not hard
to figure out.

Do you still have two hearts as a pony? Do they function well in a pony body?

Can you hear it? The sound that had driven the Master insane as it pounded in his head the madness that what seemed only he could hear Do you hear the drums now Doctor? Can you hear it?

I made a gift
too, but it's not nearly as good as Sparkle's...

It appears to be just a simple box on the outside,
but on the inside it's programmed to activate when it reads the DNA of our direct family bloodline.

So, when you reach inside it combines magic and science to scope out and gather the proper molecular structures needed to form an edible pastry.

...Basically,

it's a muffin making box.

scared. I had to help him.

I don't know.

I don't know.

And he said so many strange things...
...thought he was crazy at first

I think...
Arms...? Hands...

I had to teach her the basics of being a pony

"What if we don't have any clothes!"

"With the way you're talking,
you're not even sure!"

"Well, sure so I'm not!"

His eyes were always so sad and determined like he knew he forgot something important

And then, one day
He remembered.

It was that day

that he realized he had lost the power of ~~remembering~~ I don't know how to do that or do that one thing
I can't do to save

this planet!!
this world!!

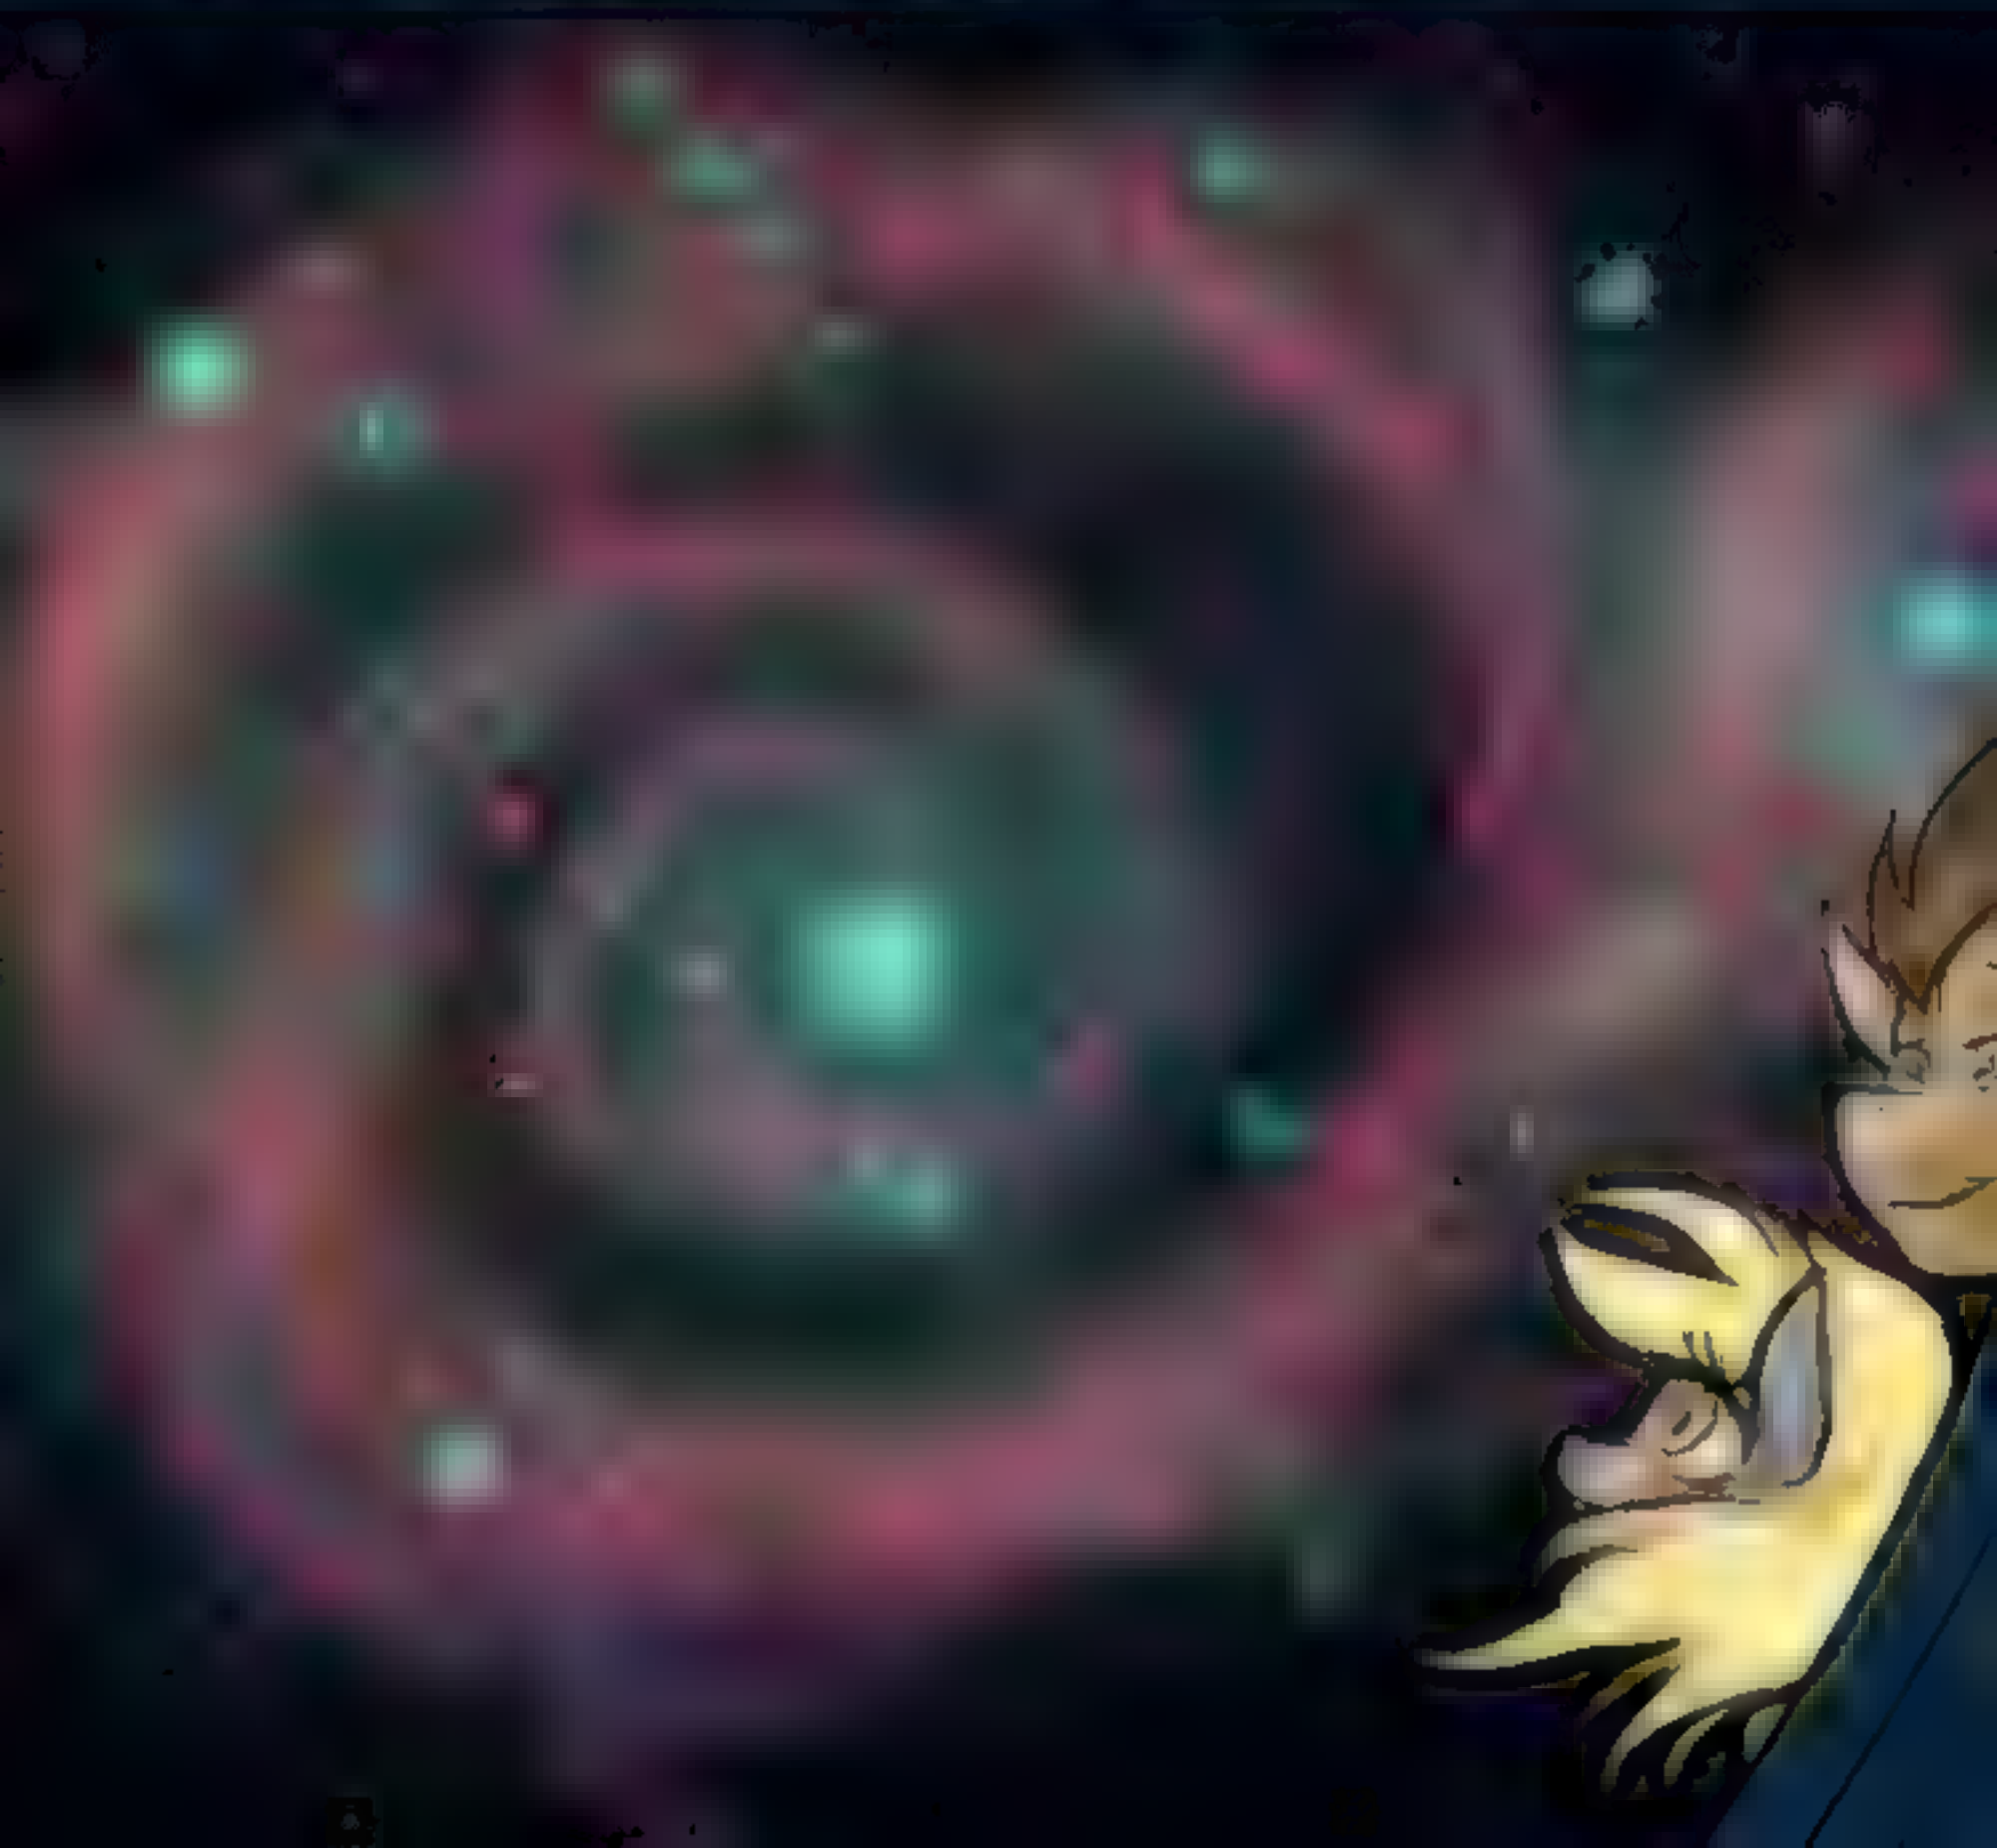

We had so many adventures
since then!

He accepted me as a companion
and gave me a key to the TARDIS

He showed me so many wonders

New experiences

But despite all of that.

He still looked sad, deep
down.
Sad, and still desperate
to find
what he
